Payments and Costs

How much does a tutor cost?

There are no registration or administration fees.

In general, you will pay from £75 + per hour, depending on the urgency and needs of the young person. This includes agency fees, travel expenses, resources, feedback, report writing and assessments. The exact rate will depend on your location and the level of specialist tutor that you require and select. As all the tutors are self-employed, the tutors set their own rates per hour, often as indicated on their online profiles.

What source of payment do we accept?

We accept payments directly from the local authority, from a parents' personal budget, from schools and other sources.

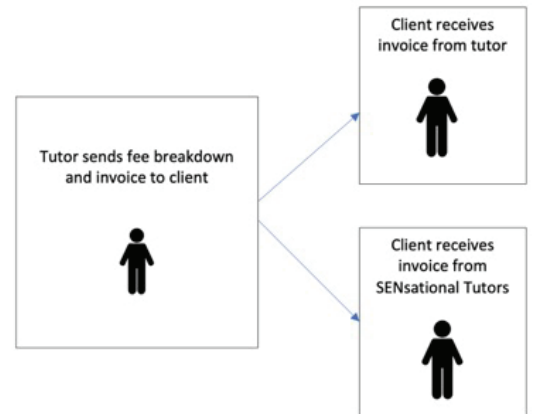

Invoices and making payments

We operate a transparent split-payment process. You will receive two invoices per month; one from the tutor and one from SENSational Tutors for the candidate fee.

Purchase order numbers
