VACANCIES

There are currently vacancies at the following schools: Christ Church CE Primary (Surbiton), Christ Church New Malden CE Primary Ellingham Primary, Grand Avenue Primary, Green Lane Primary, King Athelstan Primary, King's Oak Primary, Latchmere Primary, Lime Tree Primary, Lovelace Primary, Malden Manor, Primary, Our Lady Immaculate Catholic Primary School, Robin Hood Primary, St Agatha's Catholic Primary, St John's CE Primary, St Joseph's Catholic Primary, St Mary's CE Primary, St Paul's Kingston Hill Primary and Tolworth Infant.

THE OFFERS

We plan the number of school places required according to the number that will be needed for children to start school in September, rather than at the time offers are sent out initially in April. The offer process starts on 16 April 2026 and continues during the spring and summer until children start school in September 2026.

Parents are responsible for making sure that their children of compulsory school age receive a suitable full-time education, and the local authority is required to provide a place in a school if a parent requests one. You have the right to name and give reasons for your child to apply to a particular school, and the local authority and schools are committed to meeting parental preference where places are available. However no places can be guaranteed at any school, and you should not make any assumptions about entitlement to a place at a preferred school.

Once an offer has been made, the local authority has discharged their statutory duty to provide a school place, and will only make a further offer for a preferred school from the waiting list. We advise you to accept the school place offered to ensure your child has a school place, as you can always refuse this at a later date if you are offered a school you prefer. Accepting this offer will not impact your child's position on the waiting lists for schools ranked higher on your preference list, nor will it prevent them from receiving a subsequent offer from a waiting list.

You should not hold more than one school place at any time, whether it is an academy, community, foundation, free, voluntary aided or independent (i.e. private) school. If, at a later stage, you are offered a place at a school you prefer you must inform Kingston School Admissions immediately that you no longer require the place you had been offered previously and provide information about the arrangements for your child's education from September. If we do not have this information we are required to refer your child to the Education Welfare Service for further investigation.

If you wish to appeal against the decision not to offer your child a place at a particular school you must follow the appeals procedure set out below. Your Member of Parliament and local councillors do not have the authority to require a school to admit your child if it is full, and you will be directed back to the appeals process. The independent appeal panel is the only body with the authority to require a school to admit a child without regard to the waiting list order, even if it is full.

Any offer is made based on the information supplied on the application form. We reserve the right to withdraw offers made in error, where a parent has not responded to the offer within a reasonable period of time, or it is established that the offer was obtained through a fraudulent or intentionally misleading application. You must be aware of the home address reassessment policy in the event that you move before your child starts school.

WAITING LIST

Your child's name will automatically be placed on the waiting list, in criteria order, of any Kingston school that is a higher preference than the school they have been offered. The names of late applicants will be added to waiting lists in criteria order regardless of the date the application was received. The regulations do not allow for your child to have additional priority on the waiting list if they are unplaced.

Waiting list positions are subject to change as they must be re-ranked each time a new application is received. If an application is received for a child who has higher priority under the school's admission criteria, it can affect your child's position on a waiting list. They can move down as well as up the list.

Your child can remain on one or more waiting lists. Waiting list positions for Kingston schools will be available from Tuesday 12 May 2026 after parental responses, address changes and late applications have been processed. You can request your child's position by sending an email to kingston.admissions@achievingforchildren.org.uk. Selective and faith schools are responsible for ranking their own applications and you will need to contact them directly for waiting list information.

Waiting lists for the academic year 2026/27 will be disbanded on Friday 25 June 2027. You must make an in-year transfer application no sooner than Tuesday 1 June 2027 for your child's name to be added to the waiting lists for the academic year 2027/28.

FURTHER OFFERS

We will re-offer any school places that may have become vacant since original offers were made from Tuesday 12 May 2026. Any further offers will be made by the School Admissions team, including offers for schools in other local authorities. The offer will be communicated to you by email and will not show on your eAdmissions account.

You must respond to the further offer by the date in the email or it will be withdrawn and the place offered to the next child on the waiting list.

CHANGING PREFERENCES

If you wish to apply to schools you had not applied to previously, or if you want your child's name to be added on to the waiting list of a lower preference school, the person who made the application must request this by completing the change of preference request form. This applies whether the school is in this borough or in another local authority. We will not accept change of preference requests via email. The preferences you name will replace any on your current application, and it is your responsibility to include any existing preferences which you wish to retain on the change of preference request form.

EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES

If you applied under the exceptional family, social or medical need criterion for a Kingston school but have not been offered a place, be assured that the documentary evidence you submitted in support of your preferences was carefully considered. However, it was not considered to be the only school that could meet your child's needs and therefore your application was not given additional priority ahead of children living nearer to the school. You should expect to receive a letter from the admissions authority shortly explaining why your child's application was not prioritised under the exceptional reasons criterion. You should receive this letter by Monday 27 April 2026. If you do not receive it, contact the admissions authority for the school. If your request was made for a community school, please send an email to kingston.admissions@achievingforchildren.org.uk.

THE APPEALS PROCEDURE

You have the legal right to appeal under the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 against a decision not to offer your child a place at any or all of the schools you have applied for, even though your child may have a place at another school. You will need to contact the school directly for information about how to submit your appeal and any deadlines which apply.

The appeal will be subject to The School Admissions (Infant Class Sizes) (England) Regulations 2012. By law, infant classes (Reception, Year 1 and Year 2) must contain no more than a maximum of 30 pupils per qualified teacher. There are only a small number of permitted exceptions whereby an infant class can exceed this number. The panel can only uphold your appeal if it meets one of the relevant grounds below:

- it finds that the admission of additional children would not breach the infant class size limit; that the child would have been offered a place if the admission arrangements (as published under Section 92 School Standards and Framework Act (SSFA) 1998) had been correctly and impartially applied;
- the child would have been offered a place if the arrangements had not been contrary to mandatory provisions in the School Admissions Code and the SSFA 1998;
- that the decision to refuse admission was not one which a reasonable Admissions Authority would have made in the circumstances of the case. In order for a panel to determine that an admission authority's decision was unreasonable, it will need to be satisfied that the decision to refuse to admit the child was perverse in the light of the admission arrangements, that it was beyond the range of responses open to a reasonable decision maker, or was a decision which was so outrageous in its defiance of logic or of accepted moral standards that no sensible person who had applied his mind to the question could have arrived at it.

If your appeal does not meet one of these grounds then your appeal will not be successful at the first stage. You should keep this in mind when considering whether to appeal for a school which is covered by infant class size law. The Local Government & Social Care Ombudsman office has produced a fact sheet for parents and carers on Infant Class Size appeals

Your appeal will be heard by an appeal panel that is independent of the local authority and the admissions authority whose decision you are appealing against. You have the right to attend the hearing to explain your case to the independent appeal panel and you have the right to be accompanied at the hearing or to be represented by someone else. The appeal panel's decision is binding on the school's admission authority, the parent and the coordinating authority.

The Panel must dismiss the appeal at the first stage where it finds that the admission arrangements did comply with admissions law and were correctly/impartially applied; or that the admission arrangements did not comply with admissions law or were not correctly/impartially applied but if they had been, the child would not have been offered a place in any event – and it finds that the decision to refuse was one which a reasonable admission authority could have made.

In multiple cases where a number of children would have been offered a place as a result of maladministration, but to admit that number would seriously prejudice the provision of efficient education or efficient use of resources, the panel must proceed to the second stage.

In the second stage of deciding an infant class size appeal, the Panel must compare each appellant's case and decide which of them to uphold, if any. Where the school could admit a certain number of children without breaching the infant class size limit (or without needing to take measures to avoid breaching it that would prejudice the provision of efficient education or efficient use of resources) the panel must uphold the appeals of at least that number of children.

If your appeal is unsuccessful, a further appeal will only be heard in the same academic year if there are exceptional changes in your circumstances.

All appeals submitted by the closing date for the main round will be heard at the same time. There is no advantage to be gained by submitting an appeal immediately upon receiving your outcome letter.

The procedure for community school appeals

Richmond Independent Appeals Services are managing the appeals process on behalf of community schools. If you wish to lodge an appeal you can do so by submitting an appeal form online. Alternatively phone 020 8891 7183 to request a printed form. Ensure that you read the guidelines on the appeals process.

Before you lodge an appeal, you may wish to discuss your school options with an admissions officer by emailing kingston.admissions@achievingforchildren.org.uk.

Once you have submitted an appeal, all queries concerning the appeal must be directed to Richmond Independent Appeals Services by emailing education.appeals@richmond.gov.uk or telephone on 020 8891 7183 to ensure that your appeal is handled separately from Kingston School Admissions.

The completed appeal form should be returned by Monday 1 June 2026 to be heard in the main round. You may attach additional papers to your Notice of Appeal to provide evidence to support your claim that no reasonable admission authority would have made that decision in light of the determined admission arrangements, and/or you can ask that previous correspondence be brought to the attention of the appeal panel.

Kingston School Admissions is not involved in organising the independent appeal process, but an officer will attend the appeal hearing to explain why we could not offer your child a place at the school concerned and to answer questions.

Procedure for other school appeals

You are entitled to appeal against the decision of the governing body of a voluntary aided, free, foundation or academy school not to offer your child a place. You can request details about the appeal process directly from the school. An independent appeal panel will hear your appeal, and this panel will be bound by the same rules as an independent appeal panel for a community school. This includes appeals for admission to infant classes because the legal limit of 30 on the size of an infant class applies to all types of state school.

If you wish to lodge an appeal, you need to complete an appeal form, which will be available on request from the school concerned. The name and address of the appeals secretary to whom your appeal form should be returned will also be given to you and the date by which it should be received.
