Social Care Assessment Survey

If you have had an assessment, what aspects of the assessment process do you feel was well done?

'All of it'

'Considering child's views'

'It took 4 referral 2 schools, 1 doctor and myself. We were turned down for help 3 times. It was good to be asked what issues each child faced'

'Family support'

'The whole assessment went very well but it's the whole progress that's hard..As I have other children but two special needs children.'

'Nothing stands out as particularly good. What was striking was how poor the mindset was - it was done begrudgingly, without expertise, and with no local knowledge'

'Availability of the form online'

Social Care Assessment Survey

If you have had an assessment, what aspect of the assessment did you find problematic?

'It was done by an unqualified professional. We find professionals at Moor Lane very cliquy, very insular, and obstructive'

'Social worker changed and delayed process'

'No problems'

'It was the coming back to assess the whole...As I have three children'

'Left for parents to find , fill in ad find someone who would like to read it'

'I was told we had managed so far, so should be fine. There was nothing desperate about our situation'

'1. Assessment not leading to inappropriate package of support - complain procedure had to be used. 2. Assessment not resulting in provision. Social care not able to find provided who can meet complex needs, which resulted in package of short break and respite not being delivered. 3. Lack of accountability - no monitoring of whether agreed outcomes are achieved.'

'Getting one Getting one doesn't that reflected need Then needs not being properly represented and being discharged and having to raise a complaint to be addressed'

Is there any other information you think we might find useful?

‘Need for consistency’

‘Cahms is a shambles’

‘I just wish that both Parent/Carer and Social workers were all in the same page..’

‘The assessment only makes sense if it is followed by support. With gaps in provision in Kingston, the whole process is flawed’

‘Inconsistency of support and frequent changes in allocated staff leads to lack of understanding of the case and inefficiency in delivering provision to meet assessed needs..’

‘A parent should t have to fight to have there child’s needs acknowledged. We shouldn’t have to break or be broken to have our voices heard’
